

Volunteer Musicians Wanted to Support 'Talking Music' Group in Sheffield for People Seeking Sanctuary

(deadline for applications Monday 16th December)

We are looking for someone who:

- is an experienced group worker
- plays an easily portable instrument and is able to improvise
- has a good knowledge of classical music
- can spare 2 ½ - 2 ¾ hours per fortnight

An innovative project has been set up in Sheffield to facilitate access to classical music for refugees, asylum-seekers and other vulnerable migrants. To date the project has focused on enabling people to access concerts. We now want to develop it further by setting up a group for project participants to meet fortnightly.

We are looking for an experienced musician with appropriate skills and qualities who would be willing to work alongside the group facilitator, on a voluntary basis.

We will also create opportunities for other musicians to attend sessions on an occasional basis to play/answer questions etc.

Scan below QR code for further information and how to apply.
Or contact: creativeconnectionssheffield@gmail.com

