Pipes and Voices - an organ and choral celebration

Experience a spectacular evening of music in the breathtaking acoustic of St Marie's Cathedral. This special concert marks the 150th anniversary of the cathedral's magnificent Lewis organ, recently restored to its full glory. The power of the chorus is joined by not one but two organs for a truly unforgettable sound.

Our Autumn programme is rooted in the rich choral traditions of the early 20th century, complemented by mid-century French sacred works and brought up to date with contemporary voices including Jonathan Dove and Cassie White.
